INSTRUCTIONS

1. Type or print legibly in black ink.
2. The date of the primary must be included in Item 3 on the cover sheet. If the election date is not yet known, include the anticipated year of the election.
3. Schedules that do not apply should be omitted. If additional space is necessary, make copies of the needed schedules and insert at the appropriate place.
4. All transactions must be reported, regardless of amount. Exception: In-kind transactions valued at $25 or less are not required to be reported. However, successive transactions must be added together to determine whether $25 has been exceeded.
5. A campaign bank account must be maintained. All contributions must be deposited in the campaign account. All expenditures must be made by check drawn on the campaign account. The check must be made payable to a specific person and indicate the object or services for which it was drawn. Exception: A petty cash fund may be maintained and used for expenditures of $100 or less that are not for personal services.
6. Cash contributions in excess of $100 from one source during a calendar year are prohibited. A cash contributor must be given a receipt containing his name, address, social security number and signature, and the date and exact amount of the contribution. The campaign must keep a copy of the receipt.
7. A record must be kept for every transaction, including the sale of tickets to fundraising events. The sale of a ticket to a fundraising event is reported as any other contribution. Exception: In the case of a single transaction involving the sale of campaign paraphernalia for $25 or less, no record need be kept except the total amount received and deposited and the fact that such amount was received from such sale. The total amount is reported on Line 3 of the Summary Page.
8. The following contribution limits apply: $5,000 major office candidates, $2,500 district office candidates, and $1,000 any other office candidates. You may not accept more than your contribution limit from one source per election. The primary and general are considered two separate elections. When calculating whether the limits have been reached, outstanding loans, endorsements or guarantees on loans, and contributions must be added together. The limits do not apply to the candidate's use of his own funds or to contributions made by recognized political parties or their committees. The limits do apply to contributions made by family members and legal entities owned by the candidate or his family members. The limits may be doubled when the contributor is a political committee with over 250 members who contributed at least $50 to the committee during the preceding calendar year. The committee must have certified that it meets this membership requirement on its annual Statement of Organization. The amounts received from all political committees combined may not exceed the following limits: $50,000 major office candidates, $35,000 district office candidates, and $10,000 any other office candidates. These aggregate limits apply to both the primary and general elections combined.
9. The term "this election" as used through this form refers to the period from the date of first becoming a candidate (the day the first contribution was accepted, the first expenditure made, or the date of qualification to run for office, whichever came first) through the closing date of the current report.
10. Separate reporting forms are to be used for "Special Reports" and "Election Day Expenditures."
11. A candidate may report through a principal campaign committee. The use of a committee is strictly optional. If a committee is used the candidate must file a "Designation of Principal Campaign Committee." The committee must file a Statement of Organization in January of each year it will have over $500 in financial activity. A $100 filing fee must be submitted annually with each Statement of Organization.
12. Contributions or loans in the name of another are prohibited. If funds are made available to a candidate's campaign by a person who was loaned those funds by a third party, the name of the third party must also be disclosed.
13. Expenditures made by a public relations firm, an advertising agency or agent for the campaign must be reported to the campaign; the ultimate recipients of any such expenditures are required to be reported on Schedule E-1 of this report.
14. Expenditures, including any reimbursement of costs, to persons to transport voters to the polls are prohibited. Exception: payments to transport voters are allowed if made to a bona fide bus, taxi, or transportation service duly licensed or permitted by a governmental entity.

NOTICE

The personal use of campaign funds is prohibited.* The use of campaign funds must be related to a political campaign or the holding of a public office or party position. However, campaign funds may be used to reimburse a candidate for expenses related to his campaign or office, to pay taxes on the interest earned on campaign funds or to replace articles lost, stolen, or damaged in connection with a campaign.

Excess campaign funds may be returned to contributors on a pro rata basis, given as a charitable contribution as provided in 26 USC 170(c), given to a charitable organization as defined in 26 USC 501(c)(3), expended in support of or opposition to a proposition, political party, or candidacy of any person, or maintained in a segregated fund for use in future political campaigns or activity related to preparing for future candidacy to elective office.

*The prohibition on the personal use of campaign funds does not apply to campaign funds received prior to July 15, 1988.

SCHEDULE A-2: IN-KIND CONTRIBUTIONS

The following information must be provided for all in-kind contributions to your campaign having a monetary value in excess of $25.00. In-kind contributions include the donation of tangible property, the use of tangible property, or the services of employees paid by a person other than the candidate or his business. In Column 1 check 'yes' if the in-kind contributor is a political committee, and 'no' if not. Any in-kind contributions a candidate makes to his own campaign must be reported here. Totals and subtotals at bottom of page are optional. Completion of totals and subtotals may assist in calculating totals that must be reported on the Summary Page.
